It will bleed the piece of world, after all.

Bombs may fall on homes or on outskirts,

They wound the spirit of life after all.

Our corpse may burn or theirs,

The famine will kill humans, after all.

Tanks may move forward or recede

They tear open the Earth after all.

Be it the victory of war or the mourning of defeat,

Life sheds tears on death after all.

O gentleman!

It is better to end the war.

In the courtyard, yours and ours,

It is better to keep the candles burning.

Let me not to the marriage of true minds
Admit impediments. Love is not love
Which alters when it alteration finds,
Or bends with the remover to remove;

O, no! it is an ever-fixed mark,
That looks on tempests and is never shaken;
It is the star to every wandering bark,
Whose worth's unknown, although his height be shaken.

Love's not Time's fool, though rosy lips and cheeks
Within his bending sickle's compass come;
Love alters not with his brief hours and weeks,
But bears it out even to the edge of doom.

If this be error and upon me proved,
I never writ, nor no man ever loved.

 That he shouts with his sister at play!
 O well for the sailor lad,
 That he sings in his boat on the bay!
 And the stately ships go on
 To their haven under the hill,
 But O for the touch of a vanish'd hand
 And the sound of a voice that is still!
 Break, break, break,
 At the foot of thy crags, O Sea!
 But the tender grace of a day that is dead
 Will never come back to me.

On His Blindness

- John Milton

When I consider how my light is spent,
 Ere half my days, in this dark world and wide,
 And that one Talent which is death to hide
 Lodg'd with me useless, though my Soul more bent
 To serve therewith my Maker, and present
 My true account, lest he returning chide,
 Doth God exact day-labour, light deny'd,
 I fondly ask; But Patience, to prevent
 That murmur, soon replies, God doth not need
 Either man's work or his own gifts, who best
 Bear his mild yoke, they serve him best, his State
 Is kingl. Thousands at his bidding speed
 And post o'er Land and Ocean without rest:
 They also serve who only stand and wait.

She began her career as a reporter on a local newspaper before formally studying journalism at Minsk University. She then worked as both a teacher and journalist, eventually taking the position of correspondent for a literary magazine. She tried various literary genres, but attributes her final choice to Belarusian writer Ales Adamovich, who her website says 'helped her find a path of her own'. Alexievich's first book, 'I've Left My Village', gave her a reputation as a dissident. When she completed, 'The Unwomanly Face of the War', in 1983, she was accused of the 'deglorification of the heroic Soviet woman'. The work was not published until 1985, when Michail Gorbachev came to power.

Q4) A) Identify the mode (speech or writing) of the given discourse by giving two characteristics. [4]

There was a roundabout in full swing. Men and women and children, carried away in a whirling motion, shrieked and cried with dizzy laughter. The child watched them intently going round and round, a pink blush of a smile on his face, his eyes rippling with the same movement, his lips parted in amazement, till he felt that he himself was being carried round. The ring seemed to go fiercely at first, then gradually it began to move less fast. Presently the child, rapt, finger in his mouth, beheld it stop. This time, before his overpowering love for the anticipated sensation of movement had chilled by the thought of his parents' eternal denial, he made a bold request: 'I want to go on the roundabout, please, father, mother'.

B) Identify the register/domain of the discourse giving two characteristics. [4]

Computers handle banking business. They prepare diets, diagnose illness, and even prescribe medicines. Farmers are turning to computers for help in planning their crops. Large buildings are controlled by computers, and so are traffic and the flight of guided missiles. The computer is in the printing business and the machines are learning to hyphenate words properly—a feat that is difficult enough for humans to do. Computer are evaluating the performance of employees, and in some cases hiring people. They play Christmas carols and select gifts for shoppers. And while the first computer weighed 30 tons, pocket-size models are now available.

Two undertrials escape from MP's Morena Jail

Press Trust of India

Morena, February 13

Two undertrial prisoners lodged in the district jail here escaped from the facility apparently in the wee hours of Monday, an official said.

Omprakash Jat (36), who is awaiting trial in a murder case and Anil Rathore (26), an accused in a rape case, dug a hole into a closed cemented entry leading to a staircase to slip out.

The Jail authorities came to know about the incident only after a relative of Rathore came to meet him in the morning.

"We searched for the prisoners inside but couldn't find them". Jailor B.S. Mourya said.

He said the duo were present during the headcount on Sunday evening, which ment they escaped apparently in the wee hours Monday. A complaint has been lodged with Kotwali Police in this regard and a search is on.

*Do not go gentle into that good night,
Old age should burn and rave at close of day;
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.*

*Though wise men at their end know dark is right,
Because their words had forked no lightning, they
Do not go gentle into that good night.*

*Good men, the last wave by, crying how bright
Their frail deeds might have danced in a green bay,
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.*

*Wild men who caught and sang the sun in flight,
And learn, too late, they grieved it on its way,
Do not go gentle into that good night.*

*Grave men, near death, who see with blinding sight
Blind eyes could blaze like meteors and be gay,
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.*

*And you, my father, there on that sad height,
Curse, bless, me now with your fierce tears, I pray.
Do not go gentle into that good night.
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.*

Q3) Identify the cohesive devices giving their types in the given passage. [4]

In the olden days, goldsmiths who accepted gold deposits realized that the depositors made use of the gold receipts given by them for further transactions and did not come back to take away their gold. Then they began to lend some of this gold to the other needy people charging them some interest for it. This is how the gold was put into circulation by the bankers of the olden days. Modern banks also have learnt much from their practice.

Q4) a) Identify the mode (Speech or writing) of the given discourse by giving two characteristics. [4]

Human personality is influenced by a wide variety of factors which often act in conjunction. The two most broad factors that have been found to shape human personality development are the biological factors and the socio - cultural factors. Within the biological factors are included genes, chromosomes, neuro - chemical processes, especially the hormones secreted by various glands. Improper functioning of hormonal glands can bring about a wide variety of physical, psychological and emotional changes in the individuals. Socio - cultural factors also play an important role in the moulding of an individual's personality. Education, mannerisms, values, attitudes, beliefs, morals, ethics, prejudices and certain specific behaviours are to a greater extent determined by our family and cultural environment.

- b) Identify the register/domain of the given discourse giving two characteristics. [4]

Mumbai, March 7: Yesterday, from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m., hundreds of trucks, tankers, cars and two - wheelers were caught in the traffic snarl from Dockyard Road to Carnac Bridge Junction and from Byculla Bridge to Mahatma Phule Market. It was learnt from reliable sources that the situation had been caused by a huge political procession going past the Brihan - Mumbai Municipal Corporation building to Mantralaya. It being the peak hour for traffic made the matter worse. Many vehicle owners who tried to avoid traffic jam by using the interior roads and lanes found themselves going in circles. The police and R.T.O. personnel found it difficult to maintain order.
